DETAILED ACTION

Acknowledgements

The amendment filed on 06 March 2008 in response to the Office Action mailed on 28 January 2008 has been entered. The present Office Action is made with all the suggested amendments being fully considered. Accordingly, pending in this Office Action are claims 16-18.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 16-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Cambou et al. (WO 02/075815 A1, see US 2004/0080658 A1 for English translation).

With respect to claim 16, Cambou et al. (Figs. 3a, 3b, 5) discloses an optical module [40], comprising: a circuit carrier [100]; a semiconductor element [42] disposed in a housing [48, 50, 62, 64, 66, 68] disposed on the circuit carrier, the housing of the semiconductor element, at least in sections thereof, having a support [48, 50] formed thereon; and a lens unit [52, 108] configured for projecting electromagnetic radiation onto the semiconductor element, the lens unit including a base lens [52]; wherein the semiconductor element and the lens unit are formed in two parts and the base lens is supported on and in direct contact with the support formed on the housing of the semiconductor element; and wherein the lens unit includes a lens holder [108] and the lens holder is supported by the circuit carrier substantially without being supported by the housing.

With respect to claim 17, Cambou et al. discloses the optical module according to claim 16. Cambou et al. (Figs. 3a, 3b, 5) further discloses the lens holder includes a surface section [surface of 108 contacting the support 48, 50] formed to correspond to the support, at least in sections thereof, and wherein the surface section is positioned on the support formed on the housing of the semiconductor element.

With respect to claim 18, Cambou et al. discloses the optical module according to claim 16. Cambou et al. further (Figs. 3a, 3b, 5) discloses the lens holder has a collar [surface of 108 contacting the support 48, 50], at least in sections thereof, formed to correspond substantially to a locating face [upper portion of support 48, 50 that contacts the collar 108] formed on the support.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments, see pages 2-4, filed 06 March 2008, with respect to the rejection(s) of claim(s) 16 under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of Cambou et al.

Applicants argued that the optics unit 46 of Cambou et al. does not house the electronic chip forming the image sensor. However, in light of the specification, the Examiner has interpreted the feet 62, 64, 66, 68 and walls 48, 50 of the optics unit 46, shown in Figs. 3a, 3b, and 5 of Cambou et al., as the housing of the image sensor 42 because they still meet the definition of housing i.e. something that covers, protects or supports. Therefore, Applicant's claims 16-18 do not distinguish over Cambou et al.
